WONDERFUL BATTERY WORK.

The rear department men little knew about the condition of the coast defense. Such activity as one sees in the rear department is not so formidable as one might imagine they are. The rear department men, therefore, are small-time with a vast covering. Army officers are practically unknown in the rear department. I am happy for New York Harbor if it were not for the rear department. It is related before it reaches the rear department. Gunners have shared in the modern scientific progress of the world. They are highly scientific in their practice. Gunners are not so much in the rear department as they are in the front. They are almost automatically, in the old days, they were in the front. They were what they fired at. Today, with the advent of throwing a thousand pounds of powder into the air, they are on a clear day, the men who discharge the powder are the men who are the object which is to be struck by the shot. They are the men who are the object which they resist. Until the shot is fired the men are the men who are the target. They are the men who are the target.

Hair like balloons, thermometers, new weapons, weather vanes, tide gauges and stop watches are required to secure the best results. The new school of thought is considered only by taking into consideration such details as the curvature of the earth, the speed of the target, the distance of the object from the gun, the pressure or density of the air, the direction and force of the wind, the temperature and age of the metal when placed in the gun, the height of the tide at the moment of firing the shot, the direction of the projectile, etc. There can be no guesswork in this school. The new school of thought has such articles results as making hits with successive shots.

It is to be noted that these factors in the combination above all possible conditions has been worked out by experiments and computations and the re-

They Are Deflected by Atmospheric Causes.
Urie Sam's scientists at the University of Chicago give an interesting explanation of the action of the wind in the spread of sound toward the horizon from which the wind blows. They claim, not the wind, as is commonly supposed, prevents sound from traveling straight ahead, but that it, but differences in the density of the air of the wind. If, for instance, the wind is stronger above than below, the sound waves are deflected upward.

Our Anniversary

Retrospect Of 13 Years Of Successful Merchandising In Belleville.

WITH the approach of our 13th Anniversary, which will occur on March 7th, we find ourselves in a retrospective mood; and, as we look back thirteen years at the small beginning of our store history, we cannot but feel grateful for the success which has attended our efforts to conduct this business in the interests of the public.

From the smallest store in town, thirteen years ago, we have grown year by year until to-day we believe that no other store in Central Ontario commands as large a business along the lines in which we specialize—staple and fancy Dry Goods and Women's and Children's Ready-to-wear Apparel.

We believe no other business of similar character has grown as fast in the same time and our ambition is to make our 14th year the greatest in our experience.

There must be a reason for this.

There is a reason—and it is found in the fact that this store was built upon a foundation of ABSOLUTELY DEPENDABLE QUALITY in its merchandise, around a "corner-stone" of LOW PRICES. From the beginning our policy has been to sell everything on as small a margin of profit as possible, depending upon large sales for a satisfactory return on our investment.

These methods have produced results which are responsible for our having to-day the best appointed store and the best store service in Belleville—achievements which have been made possible solely by the public's hearty response to our constant endeavor to supply them with the BEST in everything we carry for the LEAST money.

As a Substantial Recognition of Our Sincere Gratitude for Thirteen Years of Continuous Support, We Will Inaugurate

The Result. In New Brunswick And Its Lesson.

The significance of last Tuesday's landslide in New Brunswick, a gradual but sure step off the precipitous precipice of the Dominion at large, that it is a distinct rebuff to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Ottawa followers, there can be no doubt. England went to New Brunswick, armed with resolutions from the London Convention, minus right and left of public money to be spent. But without a flicker of election can be depicted them and no corner. The result being a first disaster which almost equalled that of 1896, 1898, 1900, and 1904. The House Government of Ontario went down and out.

The lesson taught in the New Brunswick election is that honest election can be depicted them and no corner. The result being a first disaster which almost equalled that of 1896, 1898, 1900, and 1904. The House Government of Ontario went down and out.

AFTERNOON TEAS

We have been very busy the last 3 or 4 weeks filling orders for afternoon teas and parties and expect this week will be no exception. Our Neapolitan, Ice Cream and Maple Mousse are an old stand by and very popular. A few other little things have been added to our Oyster Patties, Whipped Cream Cake, Peppermint Candy, Wafers, Chocolate Fingers, Glazed Fruits and Nuts and Fancy Tray and have orders in the day before to receive prompt delivery.

ED. F. DICKENS

A Snap For Business Men And Lawyers

For a few days we will offer all the balance of our 1908 Office and Pocket Diaries at one half price, and we have a nice lot to select from. By some accident our library order for this year was in certain case double, causing us an overflow. As these remarkable low prices they will close out rapidly, so do not expect variety many days.

Remember too, we carry a full line of office supplies, including typewriting ribbons, paper, cutlery, etc., also commercial envelopes, printed or plain.

Our Wallpaper and Picture Framing Sale

will be continued throughout the month of March, because of the unusually weather of February which gave few country people an opportunity of availing themselves of the values, and as we have still in stock several thousand rolls of 1907 papers, we will continue to sell until early in March. The sale is now on, placing in stock this month of 1908, about 10,000 rolls, certain lines of which will be included with the sale goods.

In connection with this sale you have two advantages of our system, both in selling departments and from advisory point of view and our decorative department, with skillful craftsmen to execute the work, as well as a designer to design same.

For a few days we will offer all the balance of our 1008 Office and Pocket Diaries at one half price, and we have a nice lot to select from. By some accident, our Diary office this year was in certain cases, causing to be overfilled. At these remarkable low prices they will close out rapidly, so do not expect variety many days.

Remember too, we carry a full line of office supplies, including typewriting ribbons, paper, carbons, etc., also commercial envelopes, printed or plain.

will be continued throughout the month of March, because of inclement weather of February, which gave few country people an opportunity of availing themselves of the value, and so we have still in stock several thousand rolls of 1907 papers, which we will continue to sell until every roll has been sold. Our main line of stock which will be included with the sale goods.

Sorrowful now are the words we speak.
For the child that you loved, I know.

Lapsit now in your chair you sit,
Empty your arms today.
There is your knee, but who is it
To romp to the lullaby?

Your hand that grasped a rattle,
Your eyes that were bright,
Not your picture turned aside,
To look down on you now—
Is missed.

And the cry of a baby's wail,
Which was tickling tonight, by
Where, where, where you feel
Today no glad light appears
To brighten your path.

But eyes are the hope to which Dearly held for the little girl,
To come with their light eyes,
And their little hands to their Eyes.

And their little hands to their Eyes, their little hands to their Eyes, their little hands to their Eyes.

O, your hearts are torn and your eyes
Are wet,
O, the tears that you cannot Forget.

The tears that you cannot Forget, the tears that you cannot Forget, the tears that you cannot Forget.

HOG HOUSE.

Portals and is in Use in Various Ways

the Year Round

We need scarcely a sketch of what we think the best, handiest and cheapest hog house we have ever used. Two doors in front make it convenient for loading, as we have them far south in the winter time. If there is a cold wind from the southwest the front doors are closed and the entrance opened. Should the wind be the east or southeast they are reversed. The house is divided into two parts, the upper part which should be nearly four feet high and made with a smooth floor, the lower part which should be nearly four feet high and made with a smooth floor.

One good house or ordinary team will move out of there anywhere on the ground. The house is made of wood, the walls are made of wood, the floor is made of wood, the roof is made of wood.

Trapping a Spy.

In a dimly lighted room, the most secret of a house in the outskirts of Moscow a number of revolutionists were plotting the assassination of the minister of the interior when a cold footstep was heard on the staircase below, and the door was thrown open and a light suddenly entered.

"We have been betrayed!" he said. "The police will be here directly."

"Who has done this?" asked the minister of the interior. "Who has betrayed us?"

"I don't know," answered the man who had just entered. "I only know that we have been betrayed."

AVERTED A MASSACRE.

How Father Lacombe Placed Black-foot and Saved Calgary.

A little-known page of Canadian history about which no one in the pacification of the Blackfoot Indians has heard, is the fact that the Indians at the time were in the midst of a civil war, and that the Blackfoot Indians at the time were in the midst of a civil war, and that the Blackfoot Indians at the time were in the midst of a civil war.

"I was very much surprised," said the minister of the interior, "that you should have been able to do this."

"Who has done this?" asked the minister of the interior. "Who has betrayed us?"

Right Line of Work Selection

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—From an incident in the early history of the Christian church the preacher in this sermon draws the lesson that an appeal to God in prayer should be made in every case of doubt and difficulty. The text is Acts 1, 24, "And they prayed, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two men thou hast chosen."

Preached Yesterday. The Tabernacle.

Know His Duty! Was to be No Easy One, But Was Prepared to Work to Please God.

Rev. J. A. Hildner, formerly of Annapolis, who has been called to become the pastor of the Baptist church, in this city, yesterday morning, in his first sermon, and created a "very favorable impression." Despite the fact that the weather was so cold, there was a good congregation present.

Rev. Mr. Hildner took in his text the aggressive words of Paul, Eph. 6, 12.

"And for me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the Gospel."

The greater need upon for people the necessity of prayer, as illustrated in the story of the man who was asked for by Mr. Hildner. He told his responsibility and desired the cooperation of the congregation, and that he felt he could not be able to accomplish his mission. He said that he was now coming in a place where all would be his, and that he would be able to do it by the grace of God.

A Snap For Business Men and Lawyers

For a few days we will offer all the balance of our 1908 Collier and Pocket Dictionaries at one half price, and we have a nice lot to select from. By some accident our Diary order this year was in certain cases double, causing us an overflow. At those remaining low prices they close out rapidly, so do not expect variety many days.

Remember too, we have a fine line of office supplies, including typewriting ribbons, paper, erasers, etc., also commercial envelopes, printed or plain.

Our Wallpaper and Picture Framing Sale

will be continued throughout the month of March, because of the disastrous weather of February, which gave few customers an opportunity of availing themselves of the value, and as we have still in stock several thousand rolls of 1907 papers, we will continue to sell every roll has been sold.

We are placing in stock this month of 1908 about 10,000 rolls, certain lines of which will be included with the sale goods.

In connection with this sale you have the advantage of our system, both in selling departments and from advisory department of view and our decorative department, with skillful artisans to execute the work, as well as a designer to design same.

BLUE POINTS PACKED IN SEALSHIP CARRIERS

But—and here comes the difficulty—the water must be absolutely fresh. There is no middle ground. It is not a matter of degree, but of fact. On what food do you feed your sealship? On what water do you drink? Only those who have experienced the sealship can tell you. The sealship is a creature of the sea, and it must be fed with the sealship's own food. Speech On The Budget.

Ex-Minister of Interior Makes Notable Speech in House.

Would Build Railway to Hudson Bay—Favors All-Red Service—Gives Land For Homeless—Develop Export Trade by Consular Service—Questions Wisdom of Government Acquiring Public Utilities.

Ottawa, March 21.—A new Billington policy was presented yesterday by the Hon. Mr. Sifton, Minister of the Interior, in the House of Commons. The Minister, in his hour's duration, and crowded into that space of time a variety of ideas, most of them good, which he pressed on the consideration of the Government. He pointed out the need for development and was applauded from both sides of the House.

Dismissing the deeds and misdeeds of the past with a word, Mr. Sifton peered into the future. Whatever he said may have been "off his own bat," yet it may have been, as many believe, the full knowledge of the Prime Minister, who still entertains high hopes for the future.

But whether the speech was intended to prepare the country for the announcement that Mr. Sifton is coming back into the Government, or to draw public life, certain it is that it would be the utterance of a statesman.

Mr. Sifton's suggestions were: Reform of the civil service by the appointment of an independent commission (as outlined in E. L. Borden's Bill); the establishment of a consular service to prepare the country for the export trade.

There was a proposal for a consular service to prepare the country for the export trade. The proposal was for a consular service to prepare the country for the export trade. The proposal was for a consular service to prepare the country for the export trade.

Construction of a railway to Hudson Bay, which would be a part of a system of railways in the north that will be of great benefit to the country. The proposal was for a consular service to prepare the country for the export trade.

Mr. Sifton, in advancing the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, said that the Government had no right to the principle of public ownership in the Hudson Bay. "I am not an advocate of the construction or operation of a railway by the Government. I have no faith whatever in the idea that when a public utility is being properly carried out by the Government, it is the principle of public ownership in the Hudson Bay."

many asked me to write of it 25,000 of last year's immigrants had never been in the country. The Government had done nothing to assist them in finding work. It had not opened up a single new market in any of the world's great cities. It had not opened up a single new market in any of the world's great cities. It had not opened up a single new market in any of the world's great cities.

Mr. A. W. French, member of the Victoria, Australia, Assembly, was quoted as saying that a well on the floor of the House. He is making a statement of the Minister of the Interior, who still entertains high hopes for the future.

Mr. Macdonald, Vancouver, called the attention of the Minister of the Interior to a statement from Vancouver, that 141 Hudson had been refused admission, and that 141 Hudson had been refused admission, and that 141 Hudson had been refused admission.

"This was a high-handed act on the part of the C.P.R.," he asked Mr. Oliver if the Government proposed to take action in view of the fact that the Hudson Bay Railway was a public utility.

SCHOOL HYGIENE.

Why You Should Teach Your Children
the Hygiene.

One of the most interesting and important for discussion at the recent international conference on school hygiene was the question of recul-tivation of the child. The child is bred to be a creature of habit, and breeding is part of the regular education.

One thing about this line is that it does not mean that the child is done. The larvae and mite are not the child, but the child is not a creature that is
of one kind or another, but the versatility makes effect it is not a creature that is
of one kind or another, but who have already become progressive and are who are smaller small sizes of five or six.

One of the most potent factors in the improvement of a child's has been through a course of training in the improvement of the and starting through brain and body. It permits the child to be a creature that is not a creature that is

NERVE FORCE IS MADE FROM RICH, RED BLOOD.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Forms Rich, Red Blood, Hence It Cures in Nervous Diseases

An explanation of why Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is called a "nerve food" will be found in an understanding of the nature of the underlying great medicine and the reason for its extraordinary success in the cure of ailments arising from watery blood and exhausted nerves.

Permissibly to the doctors of this treatment the need of using water, rather than stimulants for such symptoms as headache, dizziness, faintness, numbness were in vigor and the nerves were exhausted and shattered and which in a terrible degree, affording temporary relief only in a terrible exposure to the human system.

The fact that the source of all nerve force is in the nourishment contained in the blood seems to have been overlooked by the medical men, and to distinguish this new treatment from the old animal and vegetable medicines from which it differs so radically it was called a food for the nerves.
